Exodoncia transnasal de mesiodens

COMQ

A close-up photograph of a dental model or cast of upper teeth. The teeth are light-colored and show various dental structures like molars and canines. They are set against a dark, textured background that appears to be the interior of a mouth or a dental impression tray.
